

Explore Marlborough and the Sounds

BAY of MANY COVES
NEW ZEALAND

We have a delightful range of activities within our diverse region, both on and off the water.

This first section outlines complimentary activities on offer directly from the Bay of Many Coves, right on your door-step and within our close environs.

Kayaking – from Bay of Many Coves

Kayak from our own fleet of sea kayaks. A great way to explore the sheltered bays and beautiful Sounds' coastline. Head up into the head of the Bay to see the 'many coves', see the picturesque holiday homes dotted around the hills and on the foreshore, look out for little blue penguins and dolphins, birds, and seals basking on the rocks at Clay Point opposite the Bay. There are doubles and single kayaks, sea-kayaks & 'sit-on-top' kayaks. Guided kayaking is also available.

Paddle Boarding – from Bay of Many Coves

Try one of our paddle boards, another great way to explore the bays. Stand Up Paddle boarding (SUP) is a sport that everyone can enjoy, regardless of age, ability or size. The perfect whole body and core workout, SUP or "walking on water" is a very peaceful way to get out and experience nature while you're exercising. It improves balance, co-ordination, strength & endurance, it is stress-reducing, invigorating plus it invites adventure and exploration.

Clinker Dinghy – our row-boat

Take a row in the restored clinker dinghy is another quaint way to explore the Bay and get a good view of the property and it's surrounds while you enjoy a little exercise. Check out the birds – cormorants (or shags) nesting on the rocks just to the left of Arthur's Bay.

Native Flora and Fauna – our grounds

Take a stroll through the grounds and you will see many native trees, shrubs, plants and bird life. The cheeky Weka will be rustling in the bushes, the wood-pigeons (or Kereru) will swoop overhead, the bellbirds will be tweeting and the fantails busy flitting about. We have over 11,000 native plants in our 52 hectares, some common and some rare or unique to our location. Ask a staff member to guide you if you wish.

A boat ride in the Bay – on our 'tender'

Let one of our team take you out on our small boat to explore the greater Bay of Many Coves, and you will see how appropriately it was named! There are many interesting properties in the different inlets, high up on the hillsides, and right down on the coastline. There are bird colonies and often marine mammals such as little blue penguins, dolphins and seals. This service runs 'on-demand' at your leisure.

Relax poolside – with views overlooking the Bay

A swim in the outdoor pool (heated to around 22 degrees) is refreshing, along with a dip in the Cedar Hot Tub, which is blissfully around 38 degrees (wonderful for star-gazing in the evenings). Unwind with a book or game on the loungers beside the pool; the staff will deliver a cold beverage or ice-cream, maybe even a light snack if you get hungry. A great spot to waste away a pleasant hour or two.

Our environs

Our 52 hectares of native bush is a paradise for trekking or a casual walk. Follow the signs to the waterfall, the loop track, the lookout (elevation 386m, 1.9kms from the resort), or do a loop walk right up to the Queen Charlotte Track (4.3kms from the resort in one direction). Take the base track up into the Bay of Many Coves and explore the holiday homes, the bird life and the stunning vegetation. Longer or shorter walking options are available

Our Waterfall

A stroll through the native bush takes you to our beautiful little waterfall, streaming delightfully down a 7 metre drop in the middle of native bush. It takes around 15 minutes to walk to the falls and you can enjoy the sounds of bellbirds and tuis as you go. It's an easy walk but we will provide a complimentary walking pole in case it's a little slippery.

Glow-worms – our little night lights

When it's dark and only the owls are out and about, take the torch from your room and journey into the darkness .... just 5-6 minutes walk away across the bay and along the track, you will see the banks are lit up with tiny lights. Turn your torches off as soon as you see the lights and enjoy our resident glow-worms. A glowworm is actually the larvae of an insect that glows with bioluminescence. A staff member can guide you if you wish.

Sauvignon Blanc Grapes – the Marlborough Icon

Enjoy wine tasting with fellow guests in the evening, sample some of the best Marlborough has to offer. Taste Reserve Sauvignon Blanc wines from Villa Maria Estate, a vineyard which has proven itself internationally since it's first vintage over 50 years ago. Learn about how different soil, terrain and temperature effect the grapes. Informative, social, delicious.

Sea Creatures – scan the shoreline

Fish feeding is a daily activity. The Bight Café is right on the waterfront and from here we feed our 'pet' Blue Cod and other fish ('spotties', Kahawai, leather jackets and others). You can also see Kina (sea urchins), different types of starfish, mussels and sea cucumbers. Down on the beach are shells and small crabs. This is our tame pet blue cod, 'Bluey' (pictured).

The cove was already valued by Maori as a place of shelter at the edge of the open sea. He spent 170 days at this anchorage between his first visit (Jan 1770) and final departure (Feb 1777). Cook found it provided a central and secure anchorage with good timber, water and fishing to provision his ships and restore his crews. There is an informative display at the site reflecting the cultural themes and interpretation covering the Maori and Captain Cook stories.
